If you are interested in the course, please contact us as soon as possible to secure your spot.

This course will be taught in the coming spring semester by the Israeli experienced journalist Romy Neumark.

As detailed in the syllabus (you can find the full version here) the students will engage with Israeli media in its various forms, and analyze the mutual impact of the Hebrew language employed by Israeli media coverage of significant events. Moreover, we will practice journalistic writing in Hebrew and will have the unique opportunity to conduct interviews with selected Israeli media figures from diverse outlets in Israel.
